THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

UChicago's Summer Session programs offer a wide range of academic and experiential opportunities for high school students. From digging for dinosaur bones in Wyoming to studying great thinkers in the nation's third largest city, students will have the chance to develop their passions and expand their horizons. As part of the Admissions Academy, included with every program, they can also learn the ins and outs of the admissions process at selective colleges.

Admissions for UChicago's Summer Session programs are rolling, so the sooner students submit their applications, the better chance of being placed into their top-choice course. Click here for more information.

Smith College

Summer programs at Smith offer intellectually stimulating and unique opportunities for high school young women entering grades 9, 10, 11, 12 in fall 2019. Applications are evaluated on a rolling basis until programs are filled. The final deadline is May 1, 2019. Programs are closed once they reach capacity. For more information visit <https://www.smith.edu/academics/precollege-programs/our-programs>.

Yearbooks arrive in May, and we still have copies available. You may purchase one by sending in $50 cash or writing a check for the same amount (payable to Signature School). Drop it off at the front desk or give it to Mrs. Atkinson on the fourth floor. If you can't remember if you purchased a yearbook, email adviser Erin Atkinson at erin.atkinson@signature.edu or have your child check the purchase list on the fourth floor.

IEEE, the world's largest professional association for the advancement of technology, is hosting a TryEngineering Summer Institute in three different locations this summer. With programs at both introductory and advanced levels, the Institute is meant for students considering a range of engineering disciplines, as well as students with in-depth experience. For more details, contact Amy Recine at a.recine@ieee.org or visit TryEngineeringInstitute.ieee.org. Final registration deadline is Saturday, June 1.

It brings more than 1,500 academically talented high school sophomores, juniors, and seniors from around the world to the Cornell campus in Ithaca, New York, each summer for three- and six-week programs. This summer, Cornell will offer programs between June 22 and August 6 in a variety of subjects, ranging from architecture, business, hospitality, and engineering to international relations, science, social change, and veterinary medicine—and many more. For more information visit: <https://sce.cornell.edu/precollege/summer-college>. Deadline is May 3, but spots fill quickly.

Hoosier Boys State

The mission of Hoosier Boys State is to build important real-world skills and leadership qualities in exceptional young men by creating a fictional, and functional, state government based on Indiana's political process. During this week-long program, junior-aged high school students will actively work together to establish platforms for two made up parties, participate in elections, propose laws, negotiate bills and enforce the established legislation from the local up to the state level. There is no cost to the delegate. Use this link to apply <http://hoosierboysstate.org/application-page/>.

ROSE-HULMAN INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Project SELECT is an immersive, hands-on science and engineering camp for high school students during the summer between their sophomore and junior years. Project SELECT will take place June 23-29, 2019, on Rose-Hulman's campus. Rose-Hulman professors will mentor students in specially-designed programs and with projects showcasing how science and engineering can solve demanding problems. Admission is selective, and spots are limited. Click here to learn more.
